The Union and American Repudiated. It will be seen by the following dispatch from the editor of the Banner, that, at Chattanooga yesterday, Gen. Harris re-American touching the rencounter at Favetteville. Our contemporary owes it to the public to give the name of the person, or persons, who imposed the gross falsehood upon him:

CHATTANOOGA, June 18, 1857. EDITORS PATRIOT: Harris repudiated Union & American's statement of difficulty to-day, and Hatton denounced the author in unmeasured terms. Speaking passed off well, WALKER.

The correspondent who furnished the Base ner with an account of the difficulty at Fayetteville, save: "He (Hatton) neither retracted nor explained the remark which Gen. Harris regarded as offensive."

For which Gen. Earris knocked him off the stand, and the next time he was called upon to explain he did so. Precious little comfort in this .-Uni n and American

When and where did Col. Hatton explain? Here is what he said at Winchester-word for word as he spoke it. It is a bold and manly statement of his position and his intentions, but not an explanation;

"I, too, thought the matter between us was settled " by our friends. I understood that it had been de-" cided by them that the denunciation of a dectrine, " was not the denunciation of its advocate. I have " here to-day denounced as infomous, the doctrine "of Alien Suffrage, which you have avowed. The " committee of our friends have decided that in so "doing I did not denounce you personally. I w " now say to you once for all, Gen Harris, that wh 4. I desire to denounce you. I shall do it by no inc "rection, and in such a manner as you will not ha "the least difficulty in understanding me. Y " sir, have denous ced the land policy advocated "me as a bid for votes, disclaiming at the same tir any personal disrespect to me. I denounce to doctrine of Alten Suffrage as infamous and in " quitous. I shall continue so to denounce it "may meet in discussion. For the Patriot.

To a stranger, the manners of the people of Nashville; their politeness and good humor; their gentility and kindness to each other, as well as their affability to the transient people of their city, make them a fascinating and interesting community. But, with all their good breeding, accomplishments, and fine discriminating sense, they-or rather a certain class-are guilty of a certain indecorum, which is truly offensive and revolting to people of a sensitive nature.

On last Sanday morning it was my good fortune to attend at the First Presbyterian Church during the morning services. As I entered a well-trained choir were performing one of those heavenly anthems or sentences which seem to soothe the mind, "sore vexed" with the perplexities of the previous week, and elevate it above the sensualities of our nature, after which an excellent discourse was delivered by the officiating clergyman -a discourse replete with learning and biblical lose, as well as holy consolation.

I now come to the offence, which, (to borrow an expression from the great English Poet, and more r cently from Col. Hatton,) "smells to high heaven." Upon retiring, after listening to the remarks of a profourd theologian, whose words must have carried conviction to the hearts of his hearersupon reaching the outer entrance, what should we encounter?-not a miniature army, but a perfect host of gazers, seemingly arrayed with the art of a beseiging army, which made egress doubtful, and, I fear, crusking to the ladies.

Old man, ask your vixenish wife how she likes such brazen-faced eff-ontery; and, will you, young man, hist a corresponding interrogation to the "bonnie lassie," whose fluttering heart beats high as she espies you from her latticed window, coming through the wicket? Ah, no! Such things are especially offensive to maidenly modesty. But we men are erring mortals, and, perhaps, are excusable, for we delight in seeing a nest embroidered skirt, and especially, a pretty, delicate foot peeping from under it; and, perhaps, we have yet to learn that it is not so sinful to revel in the extacic pleasure of beholding Southern beauty; and the fact that we "do not see ourselves as others see | March election. us," may excuse each and every offender, as well as the audacity of this article.

A TRAVELLER.

The Election Yesterday. The returns of the election yesterday show that the Sag-Nichts of the city were completely organized, and succeeded in bringing out nearly their whole vote, while but a little more than half of the American vote in the city was polled. The aggregate votes in the election vesterday, and in November, are as follows: Sag Nicht, Am rican. November, 1856 3,834 2,014 June, 1857 2,257 1 571 443 1,587 Difference

This shows that by their perfect and mature organization the Sag-Nients poll & within 443 of their whole vote, while 1,587 American votes were unpolled. The Am rican majority in the city, including Portland 1+ 676 .- Lou. Jour. 16th inst.

We are prepared to furnish Whisky and Brandles to our Nashville and Tennessee friends on the most avorable terms. And to guarantee our Liquors, in every particular, equal to those put up in Cincinnati. And our present facilities for shipping, are such as to command attention from the trade. Our position in trade to Nashville, is such that we are entitled to the trude, if we offer equal facilities, and we think we are now prepared to offer toducements in favor of our market; and, such being the fact, we solicit or ders for all articles quantily kept in a Wholesale Liquir Store, pledging ourselves to give such goods as will give satisfaction. We respectfully refer to Nichols, Green & Bailey, Love, Smith & Co., Burge & Allen, Johnson, Horne & Co. of Nushville. JNO. B. McILVAIN & SON, junet 9 .- dlw Louisville, Ky.

GRAIN III The great scarcity of grain in this and many of the Northern and Western States, render it absolutely necessary that the farming community should save every head of wheat and every blade of grass in the coming harvest. To enable them to do this effectually, we would recommend to them the "Kentucky Harvester," a most excellent combined Resper and Mower, for sale by Messra. Macey & Hamilton, No. 47 College street. The Harvester possesses many qualities superior to any machine in une-among which are strength, durability and lightness of draft. All who wish a machine for saving their harvest, will do well to call early. june18-1t.

AT THE EIGHTH EXHIBITION OF THE MASSACHUSETTS CHARITABLE MECHANIC ASSOCIATION in 1856, Report of the Judges, J. C. D. PARKET,

HENRY K OLIVER, OTTO DRESEL. GEO. M. WARREN, WM, REED, GEO. MINOT. The following instruments were offered for examination, in competition for awards :-Forty eight Piano Fortes, subdivided as follows:

Nineteen Grands, Three Semi Grands Two Parior Grands.

Thirty-three Squares In the department of Plano Fortes, the committee, uniting into one class, as is obviously correct, the Grands, Semi rands and Parior Grands, recommend the following awards: Chickering & Sons, for their Grands, Semi-Grands, and Parlor-Grands, for most decided and meritorious improven Chickering & Sons, for the two best Square Piano Fortes, of Seven Octavo each, the first Silver Medal.

The committee, in coming to a decision upon the merits of the several instruments of which they have just determined their award, were of entire unanimity. They did not hesitate for a moment in deciding that the Grand Piano Fortes from the justly celebrated house of the Messrs. Chickering & Sons, were not only altogether manifestly superior to all competitors at the present Exhibition, but were an equally manifest, and greatly advanced improvement over the wellcommended production of the same establishment offered at anterior exhitions. And the committee not only feel it to be a pleasure, but an obvious duty, to congratulate the perent heads of this long established house, that they have so well sustained its high repute. The memory of the good name, and of the good deeds, and of the great skill of its found r., shall long be cheriched; and it is a matter of equal satisfaction and price that the garment of praise he has so fairly won and wore, has fallen upon shoulders worth to receive and able to honor it. The Semi-Grands of thickering & Sons, and a Parlor-Grands by the same firm, were superb instruments; and this last had the saveral varieties of Grands, Semi-Grands, and Parlor-Grands been kept district in class, would have been entitled, a highest award, both for its own in rinsic merit, and as a new and meritorious invention. But all these were united into one class, and the award was made accordingly. The Parior-Grand, first emanated from the house of Chickering & ons, and made its appearance at the exhibition of 18'8, and the committee of that year awarded to it a Gold Medal; but inasmuch as the sace lamented head of the firm was a member of the then Government of the cociety, the award could not be confirmed consistently with the laws of the Association. It would afford the committee great satisction could this award be now confirmed.

That the judgment of the committee may be distinctly understood, they now repeat their awards on the class of inruments under discussion. They put the several varieties into one class, and they award to Chickering & Sons the In the class of Square Piano Fortes, the awa ds of the committee were made with equal unanimity. The instrument It is not necessary to discuss the merits of the other Square Piano Fortes in detail. Those to which awards have been assigned are placed in the order of their merit, as adjudged by the committee, and those of which special mention made are passed by as not coming up to a just standard of excellence.

"ALLSOP 'S Pale and Sitter Ale is one of the most useful of beverages, possessing exceedingly valuable tonic properties in an elegant form. Lapuline, or the active principles of the hop, is a well known tenic, but is apt to deagree with the stomach when given simply; it is usual, then, when prescribed, to combine it with some corrigent; no better can be than the extractive matters of mait; hence, as the analysis of your Beer has proved it to be a fermented solution of malt and hop- only, we have a most useful "Crown, Cornwall, June 7."

From James Petrie, M. D. "For many years I have been in the nabit of recommend-"For many years I have been in the habit of recommending the use of ALLSOFF'S litter fleer as a beverage to invalids who required a regulated diet; and I certainly could not have done so, unless from the evidence that the liquor was perfectly fermented, and made from the best and most wholesome ingressients. Where drinks of a nutritive and stomach a character are indicated, I know of none, as yet, on which I feel I could so safely depend for doing good, as ALLSOFP'S Bitter fleer.
